What are cookies ?

Like almost all professional websites, this site uses cookies. These are small files that are downloaded to your computer to improve your browsing experience. This page describes what information they collect, how we use it and why we sometimes need to store these cookies. We will also explain how you can prevent the storage of these cookies, but this may reduce or “disable” certain elements of the functionality of the site.

For more general information on cookies, see the Wikipedia article on HTTP cookies.

How do we use cookies?

We use cookies for a number of reasons described below. Unfortunately, in most cases there are no default options for disabling cookies without completely disabling the functionality and functions they add to this site. It is recommended that you leave all cookies on hold if you are not sure whether you need them or if they are being used to provide a service that you are using.

Disable cookies

You can prevent the installation of cookies by changing your browser settings (see your browser's help for more information on this). Please note that disabling cookies affects the functionality of this site and many other sites you visit. Disabling cookies generally also disables certain functions and features of this site. It is therefore recommended not to disable cookies.

The cookies we use

- Newsletter related cookies: this site offers newsletter or email subscription services and cookies may be used to remember your registration information and to display certain notifications which may only be valid for subscribed users. / non-subscribers.
- Forms related cookies: When you submit data through a form such as those on contact pages or comment forms, cookies may be set to remember your user data for future correspondence.
- Third-party cookies: in certain special cases we also use cookies from trusted third parties. The following section describes the third-party cookies that you may encounter on this site.

In order to help us better understand how you use this site and to improve your experience, this site uses Google Analytics, one of the most widely used and trusted analysis tools on the Internet. These cookies can track things such as the time you spend on the site and the pages you visit so that we can continue to produce engaging content. For more information on Google Analytics cookies, see the official Google Analytics page.

We also use social media buttons and / or plug-ins on this site that allow you to follow us in various ways. For efficient operation, the following social networking sites are included: Facebook and Instagram. They will place cookies on our site which can be used to improve your profile on their site or to contribute to the data they store for various purposes described in their respective privacy policies.

Further information

We hope you have been satisfied with this page in terms of information regarding our cookie policy. If you are unsure of the usefulness of a cookie, it is generally more efficient to leave it enabled in case it interferes with any of the features used on our site.
